

The map displays the state of Michigan with a large number of red pins indicating the locations of the 1,000th anniversary celebrations. The state is divided into three colored regions: a purple region on the left labeled 'Next Day', an orange region in the center labeled 'Same Day', and a yellow region on the right labeled 'After Day'. The pins are most densely packed in the 'Same Day' region, particularly in the central and eastern parts of the state. Major cities and towns are labeled, including Lansing, Grand Rapids, Detroit, Ann Arbor, and many others. The map also shows major highways and water bodies.